Hi Hunter it's Elizabeth. Thank you for driving all the way up this morning. I'm sorry that parts of it were so frustrating for you. I think we do all have the same goals in mind and want the same things for both of you individually and as a couple. I will find a good couples therapist for you by Monday. Please feel free to reach out to me at any time as well. Hallie said you would like to have the contact info of the person I mentioned today, so I am sending that now.
